

Join the FREE Business Community Resilience Toolkit Program across Southern NSW

Businesses and communities are facing challenges like never before. And there will be more disasters ahead.

You know you need to prepare your business to stay in business – no matter what challenges, disruptions or disasters lie ahead.

We can help. Register for the toolkit program and build your knowledge and capabilities of disaster resilience to help you, your business and your community in the good times and the bad.

This program is FREE for every business from an approved LGA to participate and is co-designed with a working group from your region.
