

Advising Business Communities to Thrive

At Resilient Ready, we provide advisory services to groups or businesses within a geographic or industry-aligned community.

We collaborate with local people in business to co-design solutions they know will suit their community.

We focus on strengthening:

- Business viability and sustainability
- Risk understanding and disaster preparedness
- Local social ties and connections

If you are a council, industry body or business community group, let's connect and talk about your needs.

“Thriving businesses are essential to communities. We know that when local businesses thrive, communities do too!”
