

Toolkits helping everyone get ready

Toolkits are our innovative online solution focused on building knowledge and capabilities in 5-minute intervals.

Led by nudge-theory, our e-learning system helps business communities focus on:

- Business viability and sustainability
- Risk understanding and disaster preparedness
- Strengthening social ties and connections

Toolkits can be funded by government, councils, industry or business groups - directly or via grants.

- Standard 6 option from $8,000+GST
- Bespoke 6 option from $14,000+GST

Ask us about the right option for your community!

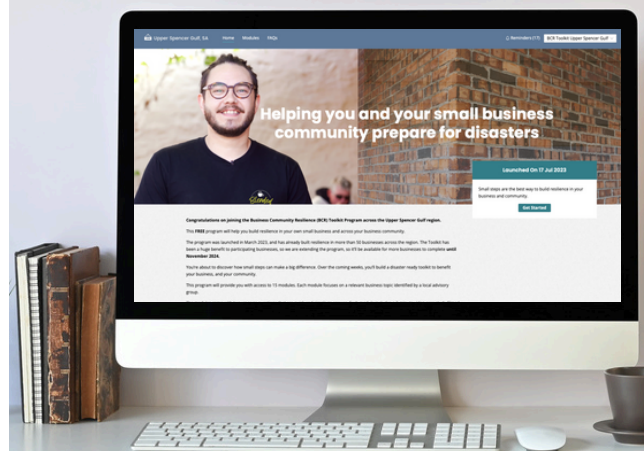

“The learnings and actions taken from doing our Resilient Ready Toolkit post bushfires helped me reopen quickly when the 2022 floods hit.”

Toolkits helping everyone get ready

What are Toolkits?

Resilient Ready Toolkits are a custom-built e-learning solution co-designed in 2021 with black summer bushfire impacted communities.

Led by nudge theory, they are micro-learning modules focused on 5-minute learning intervals. Modules are released daily or weekly from our growing library of 60+ themes and include lived experience videos and simple worksheets.

Modules include two yes or no questions providing real-time vulnerability data on the local businesses and community organisations.

How does it work?

We start with the outcome you aim to achieve, then work with you to select the best number of modules including their themes.

We integrate links to locally relevant information or organisations such as Rural Financial Counsellors for our Financial Hardship module.

Module alerts are sent via email or text, as chosen by participants. Upon release, each module can be accessed for the program duration with individual toolkits available for participants to download.

Optional extras such as workshops available.
